1 The quote under your picture must be from a citable source. It can be from a famous person, from a song lyric (cite the name of the composer- not the singer), a poet, or a movie or other popular media. This is not to be a quote by you or another student. Later we will allow you to write a personal message in another part of the book. The quote must not contain offensive language or contain content or meanings of a questionable nature. If you have any questions concerning any part of your quote, you can bring it to Mr. Jones in Room D232 and discuss it before you turn it in. We will eliminate, without warning any quotation that does not follow these rules.

The 2010 Yearbook will be different than previous books, and we feel the best ever produced in the history of U.H.S.. If you have any suggestions for the book come and see Mr. Jones, or any of the 2010 Editors listed below. To incorporate them into this year's book we have to hear from you early. We are open to and eager for your suggestions.

Make a copy of this form to make your rough draft on. If you prefer to not have a quote just enter your name in the box below.

2 Write your NAME exactly as you want it to appear in the Yearbook (no nicknames).

Homeroom:

3 Put your quotation or lyric in the boxes below. Note: This is not to a quote by you or another student). Words can wrap from line to line, but each character must be in a box including spaces and punctuation marks.

QUOTATION

4 This is a quote from where? (Cite the author, composer, or other source for your quote)

You may prepare this caption quotation on your computer and send it to us electronically. Use a word processing application. Type your name exactly as you want it printed. Then type your quotation. You are allowed 154 characters (which includes spaces and punctuation) for the famous quote. Extra characters will be eliminated. Save your document as a text file using your name (Last name-First Name) as the title and attach it to an e-mail sent to: djones@twpunionschools.org. You can also download a pdf form from the school's web site (twpunionschools.org/uhs > click on "Yearbook tab"). You can also save it to a disk and bring it to Room D232. (DO NOT send WordPerfect documents. Microsoft Word, RFT or plain text documents are OK).
